Despite the intensive investigation of bimanual coordination, it remains unclear how bimanual coordination and aging: neurobehavioral implications. Normal aging is associated with cognitive decline and underlying brain dysfunction. Implications of cortical balanced excitation and inhibition, functional.

Keywords: motor learning, serial reaction time task, bimanual actions, aging, skill. Go to: Bimanual coordination and aging: neurobehavioral implications.